

THE WOODCHESTER ROUNDHOUSE

An article on the Frogmarsh so-called Teazel Tower appeared in the Journal for 1982, p 41. This was a stove-house of the cloth trade, similar to those mentioned in Mrs. Haine's article in this issue.

Rather like a large lithic amoeba, the Tower has budded, and now sports a smaller replica at its side.